W.J. MALONEY PLUMBING EARNS COVETED 2011 SUCCESS AWARD

Arizona Small Business Development Center Network (AZSBDC) has named W.J. Maloney Plumbing a 2011 Success Awards winner, an honor bestowed annually on not just a company's personal success, but also the positive impact they have had on their communities and Arizona's economy.

Fifteen of Arizona's brightest small business successes were honored for their achievements at the 2011 Success Awards held on the Arizona Capitol Lawn in Phoenix.

"It is a real opportunity to recognize and applaud the achievements of Arizona small businesses," AZSBDC state director Janice Washington said. "The winners come from every part of this state. Their accomplishments are even more impressive, given the tough economy that our nation continues to struggle with."

Success Award winners worked with the AZSBDC Network Center to achieve their goals and are chosen for their outstanding economic performance during the previous year.

"We are extremely honored to be given this award," said Kathryn "Kitty" Maloney-Langmade, president of W.J. Maloney Plumbing, Inc. "Our solar thermal project at the University of Arizona in Tucson, along with our work on the new U.S.

Border Patrol station in Mariposa near the Arizona/Mexico border are just two examples of the projects we are most proud of.

“Having gained certifications as a Small Business Enterprise (SBE) and Women-Owned Business Enterprise (WBE) from the city of Phoenix, Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) certification from the Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) and recognition by Angie’s List as a preeminent service provider are also accomplishments we have been able to reach during such tough economic times,” Maloney-Langmade continued. “It is truly a pleasure to be recognized by this organization.”

The AZSBDC Network is Arizona’s largest and most accessible source of assistance for small business, with 24 locations across Arizona that provide free one-on-one business counseling and other programs. The Network recently debuted its expanded website at www.azsfdc.net.
